Sec. 20. (a) A local cooperative corporation shall be required to furnish reasonably adequate telephone services and facilities. The charge made by any local cooperative corporation for any service rendered or to be rendered, either directly or in connection with the service, shall be nondiscriminatory, reasonable, and just, and every discriminatory, unjust, or unreasonable charge for telephone service is prohibited and declared unlawful. Reasonable and just charges for telephone service within the meaning of this section are those charges that produce sufficient revenue to pay all legal and other necessary expense incident to the operation of the local cooperative corporation's system, including maintenance costs, operating charges, upkeep, repairs, interest charges on bonds or other obligations, to provide a sinking fund for the liquidation of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, to provide adequate funds to be used as working capital, as well as funds for making extensions and replacements, and also for the payment of any taxes that may be assessed against the cooperative corporation or its property. Charges described in this section must produce an income sufficient to maintain the local cooperative corporation's property in sound physical and financial condition to render adequate and efficient service. Any rate too low to meet the foregoing requirements is unlawful. Revenues and receipts not needed for the purposes described in this section, or not needed in reserves for those purposes, shall be returned to the patrons on a pro rata basis according to the amounts paid by them for telephone service. (e) So long as there remains any unpaid portion of any financial assistance associated with the property of an REA borrower, the rates of the REA borrower shall be set at a level sufficient to repay the financial assistance, regardless of the full or partial retirement of the property or any other change in the status of the property.
