(a) Congressional finding

Congress recognizes the increasing importance of transnational corporations as global actors, and their potential for providing positive leadership in their host countries in the area of human rights.

(b) Sense of Congress

It is the sense of the Congress that transnational corporations operating overseas, particularly those corporations operating in countries the governments of which have engaged in or tolerated violations of religious freedom, as identified in the Annual Report, should adopt codes of conduct—

- (1) upholding the right to freedom of religion of their employees; and
- (2) ensuring that a worker's religious views and peaceful practices of belief in no way affect, or be allowed to affect, the status or terms of his or her employment.

(Pub. L. 105–292, title VII, §701, Oct. 27, 1998, 112 Stat. 2815.)

Congress recognizes the enduring importance of United States institutions of higher education worldwide—

It is the sense of Congress that United States institutions of higher education operating campuses outside the United States or establishing any educational entities with foreign governments, particularly with or in countries the governments of which engage in or tolerate severe violations of religious freedom as identified in the Annual Report, should seek to adopt a voluntary code of conduct for operating in such countries that should—

- (1) uphold the right of freedom of religion of their employees and students, including the right to manifest that religion peacefully as protected in international law;
- (2) ensure that the religious views and peaceful practice of religion in no way affect, or be allowed to affect, the status of a worker's or faculty member's employment or a student's enrollment; and
- (3) make every effort in all negotiations, contracts, or memoranda of understanding engaged in or constructed with a foreign government to protect academic freedom and the rights enshrined in the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights.

(Pub. L. 105–292, title VII, §702, as added Pub. L. 114–281, title VI, §601, Dec. 16, 2016, 130 Stat. 1438.)

§ 6483. Sense of Congress regarding national security strategy to promote religious freedom through United States foreign policy

It is the sense of Congress that the annual national security strategy report of the President required under section 3043 of title 50—

- (1) should promote international religious freedom as a foreign policy and national security priority; and
- (2) should articulate that promotion of the right to freedom of religion is a strategy that—
  - (A) protects other, related human rights, and advances democracy outside the United States; and
  - (B) makes clear its importance to United States foreign policy goals of stability, security, development, and diplomacy;
- (3) should be a guide for the strategies and activities of relevant Federal agencies; and
- (4) should inform the Department of Defense quadrennial defense review under section 118<sup>1</sup> of title 10 and the Department of State Quadrennial Diplomacy and Development Review.
